RACE GIVEN TO DEFENDER

Regatta Committee Passes on the Valkyrie's Foul.

WOULD HAVE WON IT EASILY

Lord Dunraven Will Be at the Line To-day, but Excursion Boats Must Leave a Clear Way-Wanted the Spin Sailed Over Again-All Ready for the Third.

New York, Sept. 11.-The regatta com mittee of the New York Yacht Club rendered a decision late this afternoon sus unining Mr. Iselin's protest against Valkyrie and awarding yesterday's race to Defender. This result was reached after deliberations and conferences lasting practically all day. As the occurrence was directly under the eyes of the committee and was also witnessed by thousands of spectators, there was only one decision possible. Every one conversant with the racing of yachts and rules of the read at sea agreed that the British vacht was at fault. Lord Dunraven and his friends, however, held that his boat was crowded by Defender and that the accident was unavoidable

The committee gave each side ample opportunity to state their case, and took the testimony of the captains of each yacht and of others who were on board. Mr. David. Henderson, who sailed on the Defender as the representative of Lord Dunrayen, and Mr. J. R. Bush, who represented the New York Yacht Club on the Valkyrie, each reported on the occurrence.

All the interested parties were at the yacht club house until late in the afternoon With Lord Dunrayen were Rear Commodore Arthur Glennie, of the Royal Clyde Yacht Club; Sallmaker Ratsey, H. Maitland Kersey, Capts, Cranfield and Sycamore. In Iselin's party were Woodbury Kane, Newbery Thorne and Herbert C. Leeds.

THE DECISION. It was 4:30 p. m. when the decision was announced. It was in the form of a reply to Mr. Iselin's protest, and in substance was that the Valkyrie, in contravention of section 11 of racing rule 16, fouled Defender. The committee held that Defender allowed Valkyrie sufficient room to windward to pass clear of the committee boat.

As stated in these dispatches yesterday. the Defender gave the Valkyrie plenty of from to cross the line, and it was only by the Valkyrle's bearing away to prevent crossing before gun-fire that caused the fouling. The Valkyrle was to windward, and close to the committee boat end of the line. She was running freer than Defender, and was leading slightly. She was lapping the committee boat and going toward the line at a pace that would probably have carried per over before the signal. To avoid this she bore away to leeward and eased out on her sheets in order to spill the wind and check her headway, The change of course brought her within blscuit toss of the American boat. The latter held her course. The British skipper, stable, luffed up and Valkyrie's boom did the damage to Defender. He violated the rules by bearing away, and by failing to keep clear of the De-fender, a yacht close hauled. Such is the verdict of the committee and also of all competent judges on the attendant fleet. Capt. Cranfield, of the Valkyrie, holds that the fault lay with Capt. Haff, of the Defender, and insists that he could sail no

The committee endeavored to bring about an agreement between the two yachts to resail the race, but each preferred that judgment should be passed on the protest. Lord Dunrayen left the club house after the hearing. He declined to talk. Messrs Kersey, Glennie and Ratsey, of the English contingent, were equally reticent.

After the long session of the regatta committee was ended Mr. Grinnell, one of the members of the committee, was asked if there was any question that Lord Dunraven would race to morrow, in view of the pub lished report that he would not do so if the decision should be adverse to the Valkyrie. "No," replied Mr. Grinnell. "He ac cepted the decision as any true sportsman ould. He did say, however, that he would not race unless the course was kept clear of excursion boats. Some of these boats behaved very badly yesterday, and Lord Dunraven was very emphatic in his protests The Defender's cracked topmast and starboard spreader were taken down. The horn of the spreader was broken entirely off, while the topmast had a split in the mainmast head. Another spar to take its place has been brought to the basin It is not a new spar, but one made for the

Capt. Haff said it would answer the purpose all right. It weighs 400 pounds less than the old stick. The damaged spreader was also taken down. LOYALLY ACCEPTED.

Enlish Papers Say the Regatta Committee's Decision Must Stand. London, Sept. 11.—The Graphic comment on the decision of the regatta committee on Defender's protest, says:

"Much as every Briton will regret the de elsion, the verdict of the committee will be accepted, no less loyally by the public than by Lord Duntaven himself. The owner of Valkyrie is so thoroughly a sportsman in the only true sense of the term, that had the protest not been sustained he would probably have asked permission for the race to b salled over so as to win, if win he night, without even the imaginary assistance of an accident. He is not the man to throw away now a remote chance of winning the Bemen have held-his yacht to be in the

The Standard says: "The judgment of the committee will be accepted without de-mur. They must be credited with a singlehearted desire to decide the question upon its merits. A review of the evidence by public opinion would be futile and uncivil. The laws of sport are inexorable and from

The Yachting World in its first leader on the subject written before thee decision, says: "Two races have been sailed. The Valkyrie lost one actually and the second virtually. Whatever may be the committee's verdict, it is impossible to doubt that the American champion achieved a moral victory."

Two Unsuccessful Attempts at Train Robbery in the West

Both Gangs Were Frightened Off by Railway Hands Without Capturing a Cent.

Grand Junction, Colo., Sept. 11.-Passenger train, No. 1, which left this city last night on the Rio Grande Western at 2:10 o'clock, was held up at the little station of Crevasse, about twenty-three miles west of this city. When the train had gone a short distance from the station the engineer discovered that the engine had been run on a siding and was pulling only the mail and baggage car, the rear portion of the train having been cut off at the station by the robbers. Evidently the robbers thought they had detached the express car from the train, but it was only the baggage car. When they discovered their error they mounted horses in waiting and skipped for the Kinmundy, Ill., Sept. 11.-Train robbers made an attempt to rob the northbound Illinois Central express train about two miles north of this city last night. The bandits were three in number and were riding on the platform of the express car. They cut the bell-cord and then attacked the car door with a sledge hammer. Hearing the noise, the messenger applied the air brake and brought the train to a stop. This frightened the robbers, who jumped off and made for a cornfield

Pennsylvania Democrats Quarrel Over a State Ticket.

SINGERLY WAS ATTACKED

Great Confusion in the Convention, Which Was Only Quieted When the Philadelphia Editor Had Been Roundly Cheered-Six Judges and a Treasurer Nominated.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 11.-The Democratic State convention finished its labors to-day. The meeting was a stormy one.

The deliberations of the committee on platform, which were secret, were rendered turbulent by the attempt of Judge Hancock to secure the adoption of a plank urging the next legislature to repeal the law creating the superior court and pledging the candidates nominated to-day, if elected, not to accept salary after the passage of the repealer, although the judges are elected for ten years. The resolution was tabled.

A resolution favoring the adoption of the unit rule in Pennsylvania delegations was also debated at length in committee and tabled by a vote of 35 to 10, the friends of the administration favoring the the motion.

Judge McCarthy was nominated by David W. Sellers, who spoke of the feeling which had manifested itself against the judges.

John J. Molony, inseconding the nomination of Mr. McCarthy, became personal and brought about his ears the hisses and angry shouts of the delegates and specta-tors by declaring he would rather "take his Democracy from Mr. Sellers thanfrom the worst beaten Democrat in-Pennsylvania-

At its conclusion Mr. Singerly arose and bowed his thanks. When Mr. Molony attempted to resume, crowd continued to hiss and teer and it was not until Mr. Singerly asked that Molony be allowed to finish that a semblance of order was resumed. When Moiony could make his voice heard, he continued his personal references to Mr.

Singerly. A great deal of jeering began, amidst which Mr. Molony, much excited, sat down. Eight names having been placed in nomination, bailoting began at 5 o'clock, it being agreed to expedite business in counties, where there were no agreements, the result of the ballot was announced as follows: Landis, 98; Snsth, 262; Noyes, 293; Yerkes, 349; McCarthy, 110; Jenkins, trout, 201; Bechtel, 240; Bower, 143; Rose, 39; Sherman, 58; McMeen, 89; Bucher, 115;

McCormick, 32; Airicks, 83; Samuel G.

Thompson, 1; Michael Arnold. JUDGES NOMINATED. The number of votes necessary to nominate elog 227, Chairman Garman announced that Messrs. Yerkes, Moorehead, Noyes, Smith and Bechtel were nominated. Another candidate being necessary to complete the total, a second ballot was ordered. All of the principal remaining candidates were withdrawn, with the exception of Bower and Magee, and the adherents of these two men immediately began an electioneering tour of the hall, which caused much con-fusion. After the roll-call by counties had proceeded as far as Philadelphia more turmoil arose over the effort of Magistrate Withere to cast a solid vote of the delegaes for Magee, despite the protests of several Philadelphians. Finally the individual call was ordered, and the convention became partially quieted.

The roll-call was carefuly watched, and several attempts at impersonation, especially in Philadelphia delegation, were detected. Every delegate, when he voted, was requird to stand up and show himself. There were frequent disputes.

Finally, at 8:20 o'clock, the weary work of calling the roll was concluded, and Magee was declared the victor over Bower by 170 to 142. A minute later the convention adjourned sine die. At the morning session Hon, B. F.

Meyers, of Harrisburg, ex-Congressman from the Bedford district, was nominated for State treasurer.

DEATH ON A HEAVY GRADE TROLLEY POLES DOOMED

Times Prosecution Results in Decisive Action.

TO COME DOWN IN TEN DAYS

Pledge From the Company Induced Judge Kimball to Continue The Times Case-Facts as to the Victory. Evidences of the Game of Delay Played by the Syndicate.

What is known as the case of The Times against the trolley was continued for ten days in the police court yesterday morning days in the police court yesterday morning on the written pledge to the Commissioners by Mr. John Ridout, attorney for the Trolley Company, that the poles on New York avenue would be taken down within that period. The proceedings were very brief, but effective.

Acting Prosecuting Attorney Mason Richardson was ready to go on with the case in the morning, but he received information during the session of the court of the pledge sent to the Commissioners.

Immediately thereafter, having had a short conference with Mr. Ridout, atterney for the company, Mr. Richardson announced that both sides had agreed to the continuance for ten days.

announced that both sides had agreed to the continuance for ten days.

Mr. J. H. Raiston entered a protest against this disposition of the case, the specific grounds for the continuance not having been stated in open court. Judge Kimball held that the matter was one cutirely for the District and the attorney, and there that the idealt embed.

After the proceedings hir. Thomas said that the continuance was granted in order to give the company the ten days in which to remove the poles.

Commissioners Powell and Truesdell declined to be interviewed or the circumstances which led up to the continuance.

VICTORY FOR THE TIMES.

A complete and unequivocal victory must be credited to The Times for the result of the case against the Eckington and Soldiers' Home Electric Railroad Company, which was disposed of yesterday

Soldiers' Home Electric Railroad Company, which was disposed of yesterday morning in the police court. This is, therefore, the time for a little jubilation, self-madation and retrospection.

It was published yesterday that certain officials out of the charity and comity between newspapers and officials had congratulated the Star, the twinking Star, on the result of its consistent fight against the trolley. The "Star's fight against the trolley" is one of the standing lokes at the District building.

But what are the facts?

On July the 1st the extension of time (two years) for this company to take down the years; for this company to take down the poles expired. The Commissioners, withpoles expired. The Commissioners, with-out any promises from Mr. Newbold to assist them to do their duty, jumped into the arena with the battering ram to knock the poles out. The company sought to esplain them, but Justice maginam said the company was not entitled to an injunction and the company appealed from the order dis-solving the injunction.

What aid the Star then in continuance of of its "good light" on the officials? Why, the Star did nothing, and the officials did less.

What did The Times do? It went to its attorneys and Mr. F. B. Siedoms' opinion was published that the Commissioners and attorneys were sleeping or ignoring their right to proceed, notwinistanding the company's appeal from Juoge Bingtam, which should not legally have been granted. The Times persistently obtruded this fact on the attention of the Commissioners and their attorney. Then the Star fell in line with The Times and said that the case ought to be pushed.

WORSE THAN A BLUNDER, WORSE THAN A BLUNDER.
After making the case so pain to the Commissioners that inaction would be worse than a blunder. Prosecuting Attorney Pugh took advantage of the opportunity offered by The Times, and had Manager Scheepf arrested advantage of the opportunity offered by The Times, and had Manager Scheepf arrested and convicted of amisdementor. Mr. Schoepf was fined $50, and was supposed to have spentiven y from the worknows.

This badly scared and rattled the company and President Newbold began to tell the court and Commissioners, his company being under sentence, that if they would do certain things or permit him to do certain things he would obey the law. There is absolutely no other construction to be put on the position of the Star and the trolley company. One is the "anti-trolley paper" and Mr. Newbold is the trolley champion and they both boast of the same policy. They agree, but the officials himmorously tell a Star reporter that has paper is really oghing the irolley and or gut to be and hereby is congrammited of a sight.

Before all "als happened, of course Mr. Schoepf had appealed from the police court conviction on maleas corpus processings. This was, of course, to give the company another "reasonable time to take down the poles.

What did the Star do? It did nothing, and that is why the District officials found the intercept people ought really to be congratuated.

What did The Times do? It thought that there might have been more than one colored person under the cord of wood, and it determined to smoke them assistant District attorney to get out an information. The attorney is get out an information.

NEWBOLD'S HAND FORCED.

All of a sudden, when the determination was evident that the case would go on. Mr. Newbold comes over from Baltimore and makes certain promises through the Star. It is rather a curious fact that even after the publication of these promises in the Star, the attorney for the prosecution goes on with the case. This shows what effect that interview had on the Commissioners. Mr. Refout said in open court that he intended to move for a continuance of The Times' case until October. This did not look to the Commissioners or the prosecuting attorney like they would take the poles down in tendars. The Times' case was only stopped, therefore, at the "request" of Mr. Refout, as will be seen by his letter, as follows:

If Mr. Ridon's letter means anything at all it is that if The Times case is deterred for ten days the poles will come down in the meanwhife.

That is all there is in it; that is why The Times can congratulate itself on the event. So far as the news in the result is concerned. NEWBOLD'S HAND FORCED.

That is all there is in it, that is why The Times can congratualise freel on the event. So far as the news in the result is concerned the Star yesterday defiberedly falsified the record. Yesterday defiberedly falsified the record. Yesterday it said:

"This important decision was foreshadowed in the Star yesterday," that is Tuesday afternoon. On Tuesday morning The Times published this:

"The rumor, which is traced to the deliberate statement of a high official, is that the trolley poles on New York avenue will come down before a tew days because they will be taken do will earnishly order of the Commissioners. In this connection if is pleasing to note that every oy order of the Commissioners. In this connection it is pleasing to note that every time The Times takes up this question there is a sudden expression of desire to do something that ought to have been done previously." SOMETHING HAD TO COME.

this condition of affairs, the direct consequence of The Times' case, confronting the company, that Mr R'dout should have written his very scarry letter, in which he actually promised the Commissioners that the company would obey the law.

It is worthy of note that the Star says that the Commissioners said that they consented to a continuance on the ground of the promises of Mr. Newbold. Some of the cards in this card house don't fit in their places.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Truesdell said
